Our Community
We are home to over 4200 students from the region.

The University of Edinburgh is the top destination in Scotland for students from East Asia.

Funding
In the last 5 years more than 1200 students from East Asia received funding for their studies worth over £13 million, while 145 students received £2.2 million in funding from China Scholarship Council.

Alumni
There are more than 11,500 University of Edinburgh alumni in East Asia.

The first Chinese graduate from a European university, Wong Fun, graduated from the University of Edinburgh as a Doctor of Medicine in 1855.

Outputs
We have published 6197 research outputs with 648 institutions in East Asia in the last 5 years.
EAST ASIA

PARTNERSHIPS
We are formally partnered with over 60 universities in East Asia including some of the top institutions (Peking University, Fudan University, Shanghai Jiaotong University, Zhejiang University, Donghua University, Korea University, Nagoya University and University of Hong Kong).

DIVERSITY
We also have partners in local government, non-profit organisations and industry across East Asia.

DEPTH
The University has 12 years of partnership with Fudan University through our Confucius Institute.

STUDENT SOCIETIES
We are home to 7 East Asian student-led societies that promote awareness of East Asian culture and strive to build an inclusive community through cultural exchange between students and the wider community. They organise a range of social, cultural and academic activities throughout the year.

- EUCSA
  Edinburgh University Chinese Student Association
- EUCSSA
  Edinburgh University Chinese Students and Scholars Association
- EUHKIS
  Edinburgh University Hong Kong International Society
- EUHKPASS
  Edinburgh University Hong Kong Public Affairs and Social Service Society
- EKSS
  The Edinburgh Korean Students Society
- ETSS
  Edinburgh Taiwanese Student Society
- JAPAN SOCIETY

Produced by Edinburgh Global, The University of Edinburgh
January 2019